Danger Will Not Pass for a Week

Crisis Fails to Develop: Absolute Quiet Is Still Ordered

Many Visitors Call

Governor Whitman, Perkins, Straus and Others Make Inquiry

The much feared crisis failed to de velop in Colonel Roosevelt's case yesterday, and last night he was resting however, before danger that another and more serious operation may be accessary will have passed.

Meantime the Colonel's condition, to se the words of the attending surcomes "a question of watching the patient day by day instead of hour by hour." In this period he will require absolute quiet, with the possibility always of sudden unfavorable developments.

Improvement "Progressive"

Bulletins yesterday showed "progressive" improvement. This, it was explained, meant the improvement, while slight, is continuous, the left internal car, which had become affected after the eneration, showing up better at each dressing. The patient assimilates nourishment readily, it was stated, pulse and temperature are normal and there is an entire absence of depression.

mal and there is an entire absence of depression.

The early morning bulletin, issued at 10 o'clock by Drs. Walton Martin and Arthur B. Duel, reported this progressive improvement to have been continuous for twenty-four hours, and there was a noticeable letting down in the tension about the hospital.

Dr. Duel saw the Colonel again in mid-afternoon and found his condition unchanged. The last bulletin of the day was issued shortly after 9. It read;

the day was issued shortly after 9. It read:

"Colonel Roosevelt passed a comfortable day. There are no symptoms of a further complication of the internal car. Temperature, 99.4; pulse, 80."

Many Visitors Called

Colonel Roosevelt was then sleeping, with Dr. Harold Keyes, the house surgeon, the only doctor in attendance, Drs. Martin and Duel leaving the hospital confident they would not be required during the night.

There were many visitors at the hospital yesterday to inquire as to Colonel Roosevelt's condition. Oscar Straus was again among the early callers, as was George W. Perkins. Other callers included Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Frederic R. Coudert, Rear Admiral Luiz Gomez, O. K. Davis, W. M. K. Olcott, ex-Police Commissioner Arthur Woods, Captain Jemes A. Roosevelt, who ran up from Camp Upton, and Colonel Sir Walter Roper Lawrence, of the British army.

Governor Whitman, accompanied by Representative Bertrand H. Snell, of Potsdam, called in the early afternoon.

"and the measure, as reported to the House, will agree with the bill as passed by the Senate."

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Friday, Feb. 8.—The Germans are using dogs in their front lines to warm them of the approach of patrols opposite the American sector. A German dog "listener" early this morning prevented one of our patrols from executing a daring stroke. Two corporals who were concerned in the have been mentioned in official reports for their spirit and coolness.

Accompanied by two privates the corporals left a large patrol in a certain place in an abandoned trench in No Man's Land last midnight, and went on to the German lines. They first found a smooth-wire barrier which had been shot to pieces by the American from the grant of the process of the corporate days and the process of the corporate of

The corporals stayed where they were for sometime and listened to the German soldiers talk among themselves. One of the corporals knows German and speaks it, so that what the Germans said was understood. After the Germans retired again to their dugout, the smaller patrol rejoined the large one, which soon after was the target for fifteen or twenty German shells, but no one was hit.

was part of a Roman sword. In year or two it will be sure to be identified as Cæsar's.

Some little time before the American troops first went into the trenches, the marines were scatteredsinto small detachments for police duty. Many of them have since been brought together again, although no mention has yet been made of their being in the trenches at present. There is of course a good deal of stuff and nonsense in stories about soldiers saying "We want to get a crack at them," and all that, but it is literally and exactly true that the marines, both officers and men, were deeply disappointed when they could not go to the front with the others. Their professional pride was hurt.

Still they did not whine but went about their traditional police work with vigor. I was in a base hosnital.
